

The diagram illustrates the coding process for a sequence of symbols. It shows four rows of symbols (black and blue squares) connected by arrows, representing a sequence of operations. The symbols are arranged in a grid-like structure, with some symbols being larger or smaller than others. The sequence starts with a single black square, followed by a series of black and blue squares, and ends with a large black square. The arrows indicate the flow of the sequence.

ATP1G1_PLM_MAT8

cerebellum

cortex

